Excitement in the Publishing World!

THE New Year with the New Scribner's Magazine promises to offer more excitement to the publishing world than it has had for a long time. Each year recently Scribner's has presented a discovery which has stirred the reading public. This year, there are going to be many of them.

Beginning in January:

"IN HIS OWN COUNTRY" by Morley Callaghan

A young Canadian who by his short stories in the New Scribner's and his first novel "Strange Fugitive" sprang into instant prominence. We take pleasure in presenting his new novel, to run through three numbers.

Beginning in an early number:

The Strangest Autobiography You Ever Read

The son of a native African tribe, Judaist in religion, who ran away and was educated by whites, tells us the story of his life. He sets you down in the African jungle, with all its horror and savage beauty. He tells you things no white man could ever tell. It is a tale of love, of war with nature, of fear; full of animal lore, full of exciting incidents. An amazing human document.

Beginning in an early number:

"MAD ANTHONY WAYNE" by Thomas Boyd

The high lights in the life of one of the most interesting figures in the Revolution, revealing much new material, done after a great deal of original research.

The fiction program of 1929 sparkles with the names of those who are carrying the short story into new fields. Ernest Hemingway, Conrad Aiken, Laurence Stallings, Sidney Howard, Mary Colum and many others.

Other narratives bear the exciting stamp of truth. Stories from the war, the adventures of a beachcomber, the tales of a taxi-driver, and such slices from real life.

These are only the beginnings, a sample of what you will get in the New Scribner's Magazine during 1929.
